

To Whom It May Concern,

We found Black and White Construction on the BBB website while searching for a remodeling company to turn the wasted space in our attic into a Workout/Media room. While we were not sure this was even possible, after our first meeting with Greg Simmons, he assured us it was.

We were impressed with his knowledge of exactly what it would take to put in a staircase and how to create an upstairs room in a one story home.

During the process, we would email and call with many questions. Greg always responded in a timely matter and was never put out by our constant questioning. We were impressed with the fact that he was always truthful about exactly what it would take to create what we wanted, whether it was what we wanted to hear or not.

We were also very pleased by the respect paid to our home by the workers that were there on a daily basis. We never once felt uncomfortable leaving them alone in our house.

All and all it was a very good experience and would recommend Black and White Construction to anyone. As a matter of fact, we already have, and our neighbors loved the work performed on their house also.
